

"It could be a wonderful place to visit in Edmonton,
not just a hall but a suite of activities"

"Thank you, you're not just thinking about profit, but considering the ancestors"

SHARE YOUR IDEAS!

Something is happening!

at the Former Girls' Charity School and its Cottage
24 Church Street, Edmonton N9 9DU (by the bus stop)

§

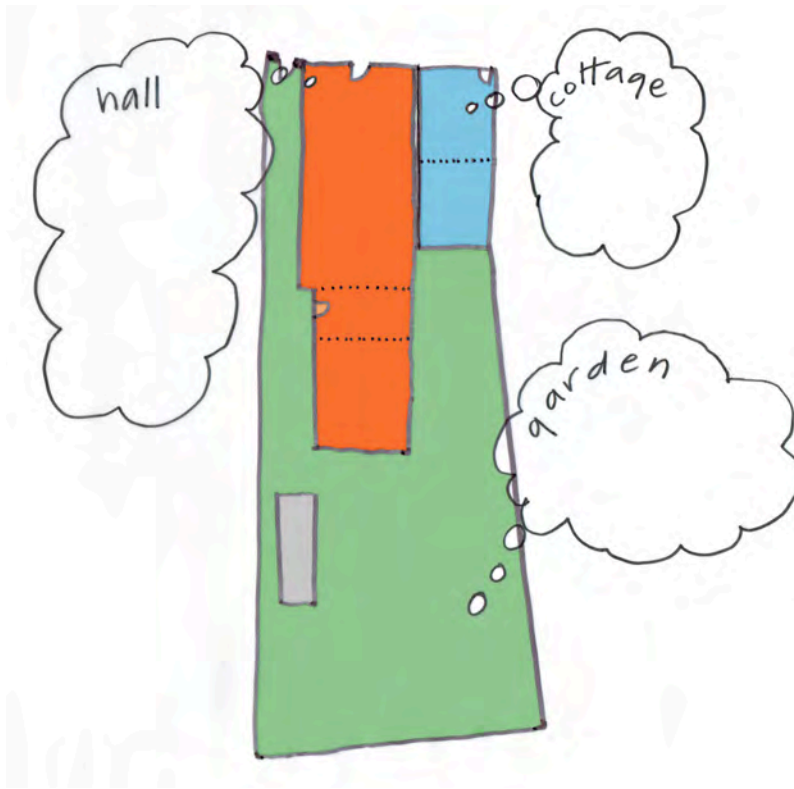

The London Historic Buildings Trust is looking to find new uses for these buildings, contribute to the community and conserve the building. The statue of a girl holding a book indicates this was a school for girls. Built nearly 250 years ago, it is one of the oldest buildings in Edmonton, Grade II listed and on the Heritage at Risk Register.

HELP US PLAN THE FUTURE OF THIS HISTORIC BUILDING!

Project funded by the Heritage Fund and the Architectural Heritage Fund and delivered by the London Historic Buildings Trust

How could this building help...?

Sketch Plan in three parts
 School Hall and a second classroom
 Cottage, originally for the headmistress
 Secluded garden

Look inside with a virtual tour you can see it online via the London Historic Buildings Trust website
<https://www.londonhistoricbuildings.org.uk>

Please add your thoughts to the bubbles,
 ticks to the boxes,
 and any answers to these questions!

What are local needs?

Arts + culture  Training + learning  Horticulture?  Community Café?
 Music?  All or something else? .....

Young people ..... what do you need? .....

What would you like to learn about this historic building? .....

How could you contribute to this project? .....

We are working on this in July and August and gathering responses by 10 August 2020
 We hope this is just the start of a longer project and relationship.

You can send your ideas to us by email info@londonhistoricbuildings.org.uk
 Or write on this flier and send it by post to LHBT, 3 Scout Lane, London, SW4 0LA

Your contact details if you wish to stay in touch (email preferred) .....

Personal data protection: With your permission (marked in the box) LHBT will retain your details in order to communicate with you about the Charity School Project. LHBT may share your details with the project team but not with any other third parties.